Proudly Supporting Aussie Beekeepers since 1953

When it comes to making The Great Australian Honey, it's not just the what that's important, it's the who.

It's the dedicated beekeeping families who hand the rich traditions of Aussie beekeeping down through generations. They're botanists, meteorologists, food scientists, biologists and most of all, guardians – protecting the bees that are so important to all of us.

It's the Capilano craftspeople who've mastered the art of honey over 65 years, expertly blending, bottling and quality testing our 100% pure and natural honey as it makes its way from our hives to your home. And it's the Aussie families who choose to nourish both their loved ones and the future of Australian beekeeping, by choosing Capilano.

It's our pride and privilege to put the best of our country in every pack.

CAPILANO. THE GREAT AUSTRALIAN HONEY.
