CLASS DEFINITIONS

Images must conform to the description of the class they are entered into and the above conditions of entry to be consider acceptable images.

- This competition especially looks for the skill of photography.
- Images may be enhanced and modified, but if the stewards and/or judges consider an image to be unrealistically altered, the image may be placed in Creative, or disqualified.
- Every image, and component of an image, submitted must be wholly the work of the entrant.

19001 COLOUR

Any subject image that is not monochrome. A greyscale or multi-coloured image modified or giving the impression of having been modified by partial toning, multi toning or by the inclusion of spot colour on a monochrome image is considered a Colour Image.

19002 MONOCHROME

An image is considered to be Monochrome only if it gives the impression of having no colour (i.e contains only shades of grey which can include pure black and pure white) OR it gives the impression of being a greyscale image that has been toned in one colour across the entire image (for example, by Sepia, red, gold etc). A greyscale or multi-colored image modified or giving the impression of having been modified by partial toning, multi-toning or by the inclusion of spot colouring does not meet the definition of monochrome and shall be classified as a Colour Work

19003 CREATIVE

Creative photography goes beyond simple documentation, using artistic vision and techniques to transform a photograph into a unique work of art. It involves expressing the photographer's creativity, emotions, and imagination through the medium of photography. This can be achieved by employing various techniques like unconventional angles, manipulation of light and shadow, experimenting with different perspectives, and incorporating mixed media. All elements must be original and be the entrant's work.

19004 NATURE

Nature photography records all branches of natural history except anthropology and archaeology. This includes all aspects of the physical world, both overwater and underwater.

Nature images must convey the truth of the scene. A well-informed person should be able to identify the subject of the image and be satisfied that it has been presented honestly and that no unethical practices have been used to control the subject or capture the image. Images that directly or indirectly show any human activity threatening a living organism's life or welfare are not allowed.

The most important part of a Nature image is the nature story it tells. High technical standards are expected and the image must look natural.

- Objects created by humans, and evidence of human activity are allowed in Nature images only when they are a necessary part of the Nature story.
- Photographs of human-created hybrid plants, cultivated plants, feral animals, domesticated animals, human-created hybrid animals, and mounted or preserved zoological specimens are not allowed.
- Photographs made where the scene is natural and the animal is unharmed in a carefully managed environment, such as Zoo, rescue centers, and the ethically managed natural environment farms are permitted.
- Attracting or controlling subjects through the use of food or sound for the purpose of photographing them is not allowed. Maintained situations such as provided supplemental food due to hardship caused by weather conditions or other conditions beyond the animals' control, where photography is incidental to the feeding of the animal does not fall under this provision.

- Controlling live subjects by chilling, anesthetic, or any other method of restricting natural movement for a photograph is not allowed.
- Human made elements shall be permitted under the following circumstances:
 - a. When they are an integral part of the nature story, such as a songbird singing atop a fence post, a manmade object used as nest material, or a weather phenomenon destroying a man-made structure.
 - b. When they are a small but unavoidable part of the scene, such as an unobtrusive footprint or track in the background.
 - c. Scientific tags, collars and bands are specifically allowed. When photographing at a zoo, sanctuary or rehabilitation center, it would be construed that the photographer ensured that it's properly accredited and conforms to best practices.

Note the Editing guidelines detailed in the Conditions of Entry apply to this class.

19005 PEOPLE

Images show people in all situations, such as man, woman, child/children, single or group persons, daily life, street photography, traditions, portraits, people at work, social events, human relations etc.

19006 QUEENSLAND COUNTRY

Any pictures displaying life or landscape in the country areas of Queensland. Breaching this rule has led to disqualification. Note the Editing guidelines detailed in the Conditions of Entry apply to this class

19007 TRAVEL

A Photo Travel image is a portrayal of the real world we live in, as it is found naturally. There are no geographic limitations.

Content Guidelines:

1. If the image is predominantly or exclusively a land, sea or cityscape, these "scapes" must include characteristic and distinctive physical features, although it is not necessary that the image identify the exact location.
2. Images that predominantly or exclusively depict people and their activities must illustrate a distinctive culture of a country, region or continent.
3. Images that predominantly or exclusively depict animal populations are allowed if the animals are in their native environment and are characteristic of that country, region or continent.
4. Portraits or other close-ups of people or objects, in addition to meeting the above paragraphs as applicable, must include elements depicting some of the surrounding environment to make it obvious that the image was not taken in a studio setting. Images from events or activities arranged for photography, or of subjects directed or hired for photography, are not allowed.
5. Time exposure are allowed, if they do not dominate the image as a special effect (star trails, for example, are a dominating effect).
6. Highly distorted images such as those produced by fisheye lenses are not allowed.

Note the Editing guidelines detailed in the Conditions of Entry apply to this Class.

19008 MOTOR SPORT

Motor sports are sporting events, competitions and related activities that primarily involve the use of cars, motorcycles, motorboats and powered aircraft. Images in this section should be photojournalistic in nature – that is they should be storytelling. Note the editing guidelines detailed in the Conditions of Entry apply to this Class

19009 YOUTH
